WEEK 5 TERM 3 Commencing Monday 14th August 2023

As we commence Week 5 of the term, we do so with great excitement as we celebrate a new national champion who resides in our community! Miah Weymouth was awarded a gold medal alongside her NSW team mates last Friday following her team's win in their gold medal game at the School Sport Australia Girls AFL Championships in Albury.

Miah was a part of the first ever NSW team to win a medal at a School Sport Australia Under 12s AFL Championships. For perspective, NSW teams have been in attendance at this event since 1923!

Full details of Miah's achievements are contained in Talking Sport. Well done Miah, we are incredibly proud of you!

It was also a big week for our students in the Premiers Spelling Bee. with Bridget Arel (Stage 3) and Link Williams-O'Learv (Stage 3) representing our school in the Regional Finals that were hosted online last week. Both students made it to the 5th Round of their competitions with their parents able to be in the room to support the kids. Well done to Bridget and Link on qualifying for this stage of the competition. Images from the event are contained later in the newsletter.

There was more cause for celebration today as our talented Dance Ensembles made their way to the time honoured

Today we also enjoyed a visit from the team at the Alpha Show, who produced two wonderful shows

NSW Health

Stopping the spread of childhood infections

We currently have several cases of common childhood infections. Please find following some information and the current advice from NSW Health.

Many children first enter early childhood education and care services at a time when their immune systems are still developing. They may not have been exposed to the common germs that cause infections before and they may be too young to be vaccinated against some diseases.

The way that children interact means that diseases can quickly spread in a variety of ways. Children (particularly younger children) will have close physical contact with other children through play; they often put objects in their mouths; and they may not always cover their coughs and sneezes.

Simple steps can reduce the chance that childhood infections spread to other people in the family and in childhood education and care services, and to vulnerable people in the community.

Ringworm

Ringworm is the name for a tinea fungal infection when it occurs on the scalp or body. It is called 'athlete's foot' if it is between the toes or on the feet, and 'jock itch' if it is in the groin. Despite the name, no worms are involved. Fungal infections on most areas of skin appear as a flat, spreading, ring-shaped scaly patch. The outer edge is usually reddish. The area often contains fluid, including pus, but may be dry and scaly, or moist and crusted. The germ spreads by direct skin contact or by touching contaminated clothing or other articles, infected animals or contaminated soil. Children are infectious as long as the condition persists or until treatment has started. Good hand hygiene reduces the risk of spread.

Keep at home?

Yes. Children should be excluded until the day after anti-fungal treatment has started.

Impetigo (school sores)

Impetigo is a skin infection caused by common skin bacteria, which commonly occurs in young children. Impetigo appears as flat, yellow, crusty or moist patches or blisters on the skin, usually in exposed areas such as the face, arms and legs.

The bacteria can spread by contact with the sores or infected fluid. Because the sores are usually itchy, children can scratch them and spread the infection, via their hands, to other parts of the body or to other people. The infection can also be spread by touching contaminated clothing or other items. The disease is very infectious, but it is not dangerous.

Keep at home?

Yes. Children should be excluded until appropriate antibiotic treatment has started. Any sores on exposed skin should be covered with a watertight dressing.

Head lice

Head lice are insects that live in hair and suck blood from the scalp. They can cause itching of the scalp but they do not cause disease or illness.

Female head lice lay their eggs and glue them to the base of hair shafts, and the eggs hatch after seven to ten days. The immature lice grow into adults and start biting the scalp to feed on blood.

Check your child's head once a week for head lice. If you find any lice or eggs, begin treatment immediately. Check for effectiveness of the treatment every 2 days until no lice are found for ten consecutive days.

Keep at home?

No. Not excluded if effective treatment begins before the next day of attendance. The child does not need to be sent home immediately if head lice are detected.
